Consumers of Ink.

The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has established an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo.

And is prepared to sell as good Ink, as any made in any part of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful jet black color which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p. $ less than the same can be bought at any outer house.

People under the impression, that no Ink can be good unless sent for quart bottles of English Ink, can have that same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imported upon the public as such.

But I am not ashamed to put my own Name on the labels, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and I possess more virtues than most of the Inks.

I—It is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retains its color.

III.—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—Preserves the eyes of those who have much to write at night because they need not to force their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice generally entertained against Home Manufacture, will in a sad aside, and all I ask is, to try the same which will be a benefit to the buyer, and the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B—Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and delivered free of any Charge.

THE IMPENDING REVOLUTION.

"ARMA VIRUMQUE CANO".

Reliable advices give us to understand that a concentration of forces may soon be expected in Santa Fé, a set of mercenaries not under the command of Government, but hired to carry out the revolutionary plans of a man well known throughout this continent. Several persons in high quarters are implicated and one of our National Ministers is notorious for his friendly relations and frequent conferences with the wealthy conspirator. The feeling in Rosario is declared, and a popular outbreak is there arranged on, as a commencement to the campaign. It is thought that General Mitre has taken measures, and some National Guards from the city will opportunely present themselves at the scene of action. The plan of the factionaries is, to make a forced march across the Cordoban frontier, expel several of the proprietors, seize a large booty, overturn the present order of things, banish their principal enemies, alarm the whole country, and finally enter Cordoba in triumph. They count upon the decided co-operation of many foreign residents, and have even presumed to draw up a Constitution, of which, fortunately, our Government has secured a copy, as also of all their minutest intentions. The 20th inst is the day appointed, and the canditto of the revolution leaves this city, to head his legions, on to-morrow.

Our fair readers will have divined the enigma, and concluded that the revolt will be a bloodless one: not however, but garlands of flowers will adorn the veterans on his arrival at Rosario. Not minie rifles and sabres, but spades and pick-axes, will be the implements of war. Not industrious citizens, but lazy bullock carts, will be banished from Sta Fé. Not fire and rapine, but the railway-whistle will terrify the quadrupedal dwellers of the Pampas, whose postures will be given up as prize to the hero of the campaign. Could wonder that foreigners are privy to such machinations, that Gen. Mitre associations the Magna Charta of their revolution, and has promised to assist at the downfal of the actual potentates, distance and ridoh

The present is a movement which every honest man should second, with his utmost ability. It is not the triumph of a civc'o, but the consolidation of a power against which if any vainly rebel, no quarter should be shewn. The divine right of kings may be exploded, but industry is based on a mandate of the Most High. The completion of the campaign will see of our rea an immense number of pris ners and leave the republic involved in an inexcusable debt; for Mr Wheelwright will confer on this people such an eternal boon, that he will captivate all grateful hearts, and lay us under an obligation we can never sufficiently acknowledge or repay. We wish him every success, and hope he will shun at least whatever obstacles oppose his victorious march on Cordoba.

A select dinner-party was given by the British Minister on Thursday evening at the Legation . . .

MONTEVIDEO.

A long debate arose in the Chamber of Deputies on the project for granting lands to purchasers and settlers on adjoining the Matriz church: Sor. Sagastume opposed, on the grounds that some pensions to widows and orphans were illegally owing to the poverty of the exchequer. The bill, however, passed both readings. A Bolivian minner named Theodore Ednin was in custody for having in his possession precious veins of metal he has discovered in Tacuarembó, and seeks a patent for working them. The "Ocean Steam" recommends the plausibility of Costas, throughout the republic. The Reform tells us that the two Italian singers, Sor. Bossi, whose travels through the virgin territories of upper Paraguay and Matto Grosso (local, as it rides over the jurisdiction rendered him so famous, is publishing of the courts, and traffics upon the a narrative, in Paris, adorned with splendid photographic scenes. Another Napoleon is playing with the Dramatic Art at Soho. The two young Buisbys give performances on the flying trapeze: it is reported that one of the brothers has been almost killed, the trapeze having broken, precipitating him to the pit, where he smashed three seats in the fall. Mr. Van Orden has imprisoned his own widow for having the forged ticket to the Ocean Circus. Four more scenes have been confined, being found on duty without their insignia of office.

San Felipe, on Sunday night, rang with frantic applause, at little Annie's performance of an Irish jig. The city drainage progresses and the Intendente B. Argerich hopes to take a lee son from her Oriental sister in sanitary arrangements.

There is no truth in the statement of the "National", that Mr. Rogers intends re-visiting B. Ayres, since the Ocean Circus took its farewell of M. Video on Tuesday night, and embarked next day for Rio Grande: they promise, however, to return to M. Video within 12 months. Several bakers have been fined for selling light bread.

THE GAS QUESTION.

One of the greatest proofs of the utter inadequacy of our judiciary system, is the present alarming dispute between the Municipality and the Gas Company. It is only in Buenos Ayres, where public companies enjoying certain rights and privileges, and with a most lucrative monopoly, could attempt to take the law into its own hands, and deprive the whole city of the supply of gas.

Unhappily, in this country, people are too apt to resort to summary measures, instead of recurring to the tribunals of the country. A gaucho who meets a man on a horse of his mark, usually forces the rider to unsaddle and deliver up the animal then and there: if he meets, while galloping over the campo, a cow without leave or license. Owing to the facility which exists both for robbing and losing cattle in this country, we are not so much surprised at this summary method of getting one's property; but when the same system enters into every branch of business—when public companies think proper to hold out threats, without first resorting to the tribunals of the country for relief, it is high time to call public attention to the evil state of the administration of justice in Buenos Ayres.

Although we condemn the action of the company, and consider it a flagrant violation of public rights, we still we feel bound to say that the Gas Company has many excuses for resorting to the measures which it threatens.

The Municipality of Buenos Ayres has persisted in a line of conduct towards this Company, which cannot be defended. It had adjourned and prorogationed the question for years with the law courts in the state they are, it would be worse than madness to commence a suit against a body of men so hedged round with privilege as the Municipality.

The Company finds itself so situated, that to keep supplying the Gas it must necessarily rob the shareholders, and ultimately become bank rupt.

We are told the Govt. has interfered already, and will interfere again, but we deny that the Government has any right whatever to make an order in the matter, and it is one of the most convincing proofs of the imbecility of the courts, the fact that the Executive is obliged to intermeddle in a purely civil question.

We have such a superabundance of lawyers in this city, that it seems almost superfluous to point out the proper remedy in the present dispute. But, were the terms changed, and the gas company of the city of Dublin to attempt a similar plan, to terminate a disputed question, it is most likely the Lord Lieutenant who would interfere; but a "mandamus" would be issued, commanding the company to supply the city, and to bring their accounts into court, to be adjudicated upon.

It is impossible to suppose that there does not exist in this country a similar writ to that of our "mandamus" in force. If there does, then why not apply it to the present case? If there does not, instead of applying to the Executive to issue an order, which is clearly unconstitutional, we have civil tribunals or we have not.

If they are useless and incapable of protecting our rights then let us set about reforming them at once: send all the present judges about their business, abolish all the whimsical formalities now in vogue, and put men on the bench who will administer justice expeditiously, and protect public companies from being ruined by our city fathers.

COLON THEATRE.

On Thursday a large audience attended to see the performances of Mes Lee Brothers. Mr. William Haulon went through the first act I second feats of Zampilhecarion successfully but in the third he had (we must use the word) the imprudence to attempt the jump on one hand and hurt himself in the palm where his recent wound on Monday was not yet entirely healed. Mr. Lees as an artist of great merit and our people have already testified it cordially, but for his own sake we would request him to take a little more care of himself: he has done more than enough to make a reputation and he should not risk it by overworking his physical frame. The announcement of the suspension of the feat was accompanied by great applause in token of esteem and good will.

The magic balls by the brothers William and George Lee were first rate as also the feats with sticks, gun and the ladder of Mr. Alfred, the latter having finished up a long ladder without any support, bounced himself on it, played a tune on the concertina and danced round with the ladder and came down amidst the greatest applause.

The Baffts performed well. D'Hote however was less up the chamounette than he usually is, and we were much surprised at if we consider that a great number of people, who go to the gods' regions, do not understand French and cannot appreciate the performances for which D'Hote can proficiently excel. Yet from the jai ani noises there was great applause which attested complete success. The performance above and before was called again on the stage.

The "Alien of the air" was not performed on account of Mr. Lee's wound and the public retired highly satisfied.

NORTHERNERS AND SOUTHERNERS.

If he was whether the experience of a rough traveller may be so much used in the two ways, when so much blind prejudice is cultured to grow in England against the Northern American and even not in favor of South, would have reason to be sincere. As a woman who having travelled about over a large part of Europe and the East, has particular opportunity of visiting more than most men possibly can, of observing the manners of the people of many countries, and of making comparisons from Egypt preserved in the shape of mummies down to those of two days old, I shall endeavour to give them most impartially as I can, and to study the matter geography.

Q. QUESTION.—The company have decided to keep the lights on all night, as they are inform the public that a person on a bicycle to say if unless ordered, the Municipality settles the claims of the company, now out stand—for 23 months. The Municipality could, however, not need much all Monday, as apparently if the threat is carried out, we shall be two days without gas.

However, we hear, so, the gas will only be turned off about 12 o'clock unless up to the hour, private establishments are the principal consumers.

It is said the Government is going to interfere; but what it is to do in the matter we are really at a loss to know, as the company's patient is exercised; they have no authority, and consequently do not recognize that an authority.

low any which attempts to travel and sit at tables d'hote of our own popular inn; and they absurdly measure a New York shoemaker by the standard of a London barrister. I speak of what a genuine Yankee is as a fellow traveller to a lady without companion or escort, wealth or rank. They are simply the most kind and courteous of any people. Let Englishmen be pleased to ran their prejudices where they like, it is beloved at least an Englishwoman whom they have never failed to treat with kindness, to speak of the ford as the former.

As to the Southern Americans, it must be confessed that their chivalry partakes a good deal too much of a quality which doubtless coloured all the supposed romantic manners of the Middle Ages, and which always must reappear when society is divided between despots and serfs. I do not think many English ladies and gentlemen could comfortably endure the suppression of all such little phrases as "Thank you," "If you please," and their equivalents, in addresses to white attendants. One feels inclined to return to the exhortation of the nursery at all moments, "It wants a word!" I happened once to be dining alone at the convent at Rambla, the Franciscan lay-brother and my Pie montese dragoman conversing together mean-while. The talk ran on the travellers to Palestine, and both of them agreed that the Americans were most numerous of any, but singularly diverse in character. "Some of them," said the monk, "are buonissimi gente but some other—oh! they order—red me about, and never said a word of thanks—as if I were their servant." "Worse than that," said the Piedmontese. Always "I twice served them as dragoman, and they treated me like a dog I left them, though they paid me well, for I could not endure it. They came from the Southern States, where they have slaves."

MISCELLANEA.

SERBIAN GREEKS.—The gipsies are a very numerous body in Servia; they are met with in all parts of the country; and the complete part which they took during the war with Turkey, and the services which they rendered to the national cause, have tended to give them a higher position here than in most other countries of Europe. They are mostly members of the Greek Church, frequenting the churches like the other inhabitants of the country, and are altogether more settled habits than gipsies in general, though they can still rendered a clear apart from either the Wallachians or the Servians, and are especially noted for their fine stature. On the border of Turkey, many of the gipsy bands pass in the Mahomedan faith. These people are the charcoal-burners, the tinkers and smiths, the basket-makers and trinket-vendors, as well as the musicians of Servia. In the winter months they collect in the towns, but in summer they resort to more convenient haunts, and are chiefly to be found in the recesses of the forests. The dress of this people, but more especially that of the women, is almost identical with that which from their costume, would be taken for Albanian. Their features have the Greek cast, and they always wear their names of places of their own way, and Female Albanians were especially charmed into Servian households, we find that the same names were born state the old names of the Greeks and the murder of Caprice Augustus. In the Servian dress are to be traced the rules of Corfu-jacket, the chemise of two yards, and the petticoat of the same material. The gipsy women are fond of ornaments of gold and silver, and their head-dress is very picturesque.

Q. QUESTION.—The company have decided to keep the lights on all night, as they are inform the public that a person on a bicycle to say if unless ordered, the Municipality settles the claims of the company, now out stand—for 23 months. The Municipality could, however, not need much all Monday, as apparently if the threat is carried out, we shall be two days without gas.

However, we hear, so, the gas will only be turned off about 12 o'clock unless up to the hour, private establishments are the principal consumers.

It is said the Government is going to interfere; but what it is to do in the matter we are really at a loss to know, as the company's patient is exercised; they have no authority, and consequently do not recognize that an authority.

A FAIR PRINCESS.—An affair of a regular character, which at present occupies the attention of the Parisian public, has just happened to Mademoiselle A, the grand-daughter of a woman, formerly keeper of the seals under the first empire. This last summer she was courted at one of the watering places by a real or supposed Russian Prince, who soon after made proposal of marriage. But madame A. objected to the match, assigning as a reason that her daughter was not very rich having only 50,000 f. as her marriage portion. "Madame," said the Prince, "That is of no consequence. I would prefer not mentioning the subject of a dowry at all. Lay out those 200,000f. in the purchase of a cobrelle worthy of mademoiselle, if that be possible." This magnificent act of selfdenial threw Madame A. off her guard, and she neglected to take the simple precaution to inquire at the Russian Embassy what were the titles and position of the Prince The marriage was decided upon. The money was laid out as proposed, with the exception of 60,000f. which was, at the wish of the Prince, thrown into the cobrelle with the jewels and Cachemires. The marriage was celebrated the other day, and, as the hotel which the Prince was building was not ready, it was conducted to the house of the ceremony, in one of the most sumptuous apartments of the Grand Hotel. On the following morning the young wife found herself in the same position as Psyche after her fatal fit of curiosity. No prince was to be found. It appears that her noble husband had become acutely ill in the morning, taking with him the corbeille and the 60,0 0f. The false Prince is supposed to be an Englishman already divorced from his wife.—Globe

LOCAL EVENTS.

MORENO.—The Government have subscribed 5'000 dollars for the works of the church in this town.

SAN NICOLAS.—The committee of the public schools had already prepared the necessary materials for the construction of a fine edifice for that purpose.

Messrs. Pedro Barros, Zaracondegui Rodriguez and Teodoro Fernandez have taken steps for the creation of a bank with four millions currency capital and one of them came into town a few days ago to make arrangements for carrying out the idea: we hear he referred with very satisfactory information.

VICTOR EMANUEL.—King of Italy has addressed a letter of congratulation to President Mitre for his election to office.

MR. THOMAS LEES.—A brother of the celebrated artists is pfomising to visit this city shortly: we hope to contwinded and we hear will perform on Sunday.

THE MANCHESTER.—This vessel left the Riachuelo with wheat on board for the Island of St. Helena: after a months' absence she returned in ballast.

THE BIG paper commenting on the fact that the vess has not been to St Helena, attacks in so short a time and pretence that she has taken provisions on board for Admiral or some other "scoundrel."

TRAVIE STERIOT.—We can safely say these workers for we are not in the service of Cocker—nor is he in the service of any one else—if we believe that the skilled and pulpers of the place, who are expected to fine us two dollars for pronouncing their excellent work.

The union was representing, Gov. Gipen a dinner at the house of Mr. Mucha to which we were invited, but unfortunately he found the pulpers to be in the right of the matter, and we who should not be on the same opinion of D. Cullen. The dinner was excellent with the toasts which from the nature of the case were drunk in water, welcome it may be on the other side, the people of all Egypt, by many people united to have been the most the place of the pipies. The local name expressive and classical into Sea pipes here does not state the old name, nor does it convey to the mind of Caprice Augustus. In the Servian dress are to be traced the rules of Corfu-jacket, the chemise of two yards, and the petticoat of the same material. The gipsy women are fond of ornaments of gold and silver, and their head-dress is very picturesque.

Q. QUESTION.—The company have decided to keep the lights on all night, as they are inform the public that a person on a bicycle to say if unless ordered, the Municipality settles the claims of the company, now out stand—for 23 months. The Municipality could, however, not need much all Monday, as apparently if the threat is carried out, we shall be two days without gas.

On Change

Ounces opened at 426½ and rose steadily in sales for cash and on time, although the total amount of sales was not large and principally effected for Saturday. Ounces closed at 430 and 1750 sold for cash;

3605 for Saturday at 426 to 29
900 for Wednesday at 425 à to 27
1000 for 13 April at 425 to 26 1/2
100 for September at 422

Total sales 7255 ounces, no transactions in foreign gold or Bolivianos silver.

In the plans and deposits there is more animation, we notice, to-day, than yesterday and the day before; and there is an improvement in the rates for picked lots ; prices in general are now considered firm Sales as follows.

Wool.—8,000 arrobas good qualities and condition at private terms; 2000 do at $3, 650 do good mixed at $4. 350 do at 75, 200 do common at 59, 1000 do 57, 1500 do at 56, 300 do at 50.

In the Rolos the following transactions have been effected:

580	salted horse hides	13 rls.
450	dry Entre Rios	40 "
350	dry Entre Rios	40 1/2 "
500	dry Corrientes hides	39 "
150	nrr. Entre Rios	31 "
500	lbs. Nutria skins	2 3/8 "
7000	horns E.Rios, per mil	300 $
3	bales hide cuttings	53 "
1000	arr. mares, cross E.Aires	26 "

Exchange on England is fl m at 68 shillings and transactions not numerous on Brazil there are drawers at 28$000 and taken at 29$200 but as yet we know of no transactions; on France it has risen up to 85 1/2frs.

The British brig Dexter has been chartered to load full cargo of bones & bone ash at Concepcion del Uruguay for Liverpool direct at 40sh 5 per cent and the Prussian barque Jose not to load 700 hides wool for Antwerp at private terms.

Besides these the following sales took place yesterday

600 American hides 20 1/2 lbs 26rls. 1000 dry Paraguay matadero at 46 " 1000 salted do and cows at 39 " and 7000 quintals jerked beef from the Uruguay for joint account at 14 rls. for the beef, 9 1/2 rls. and 10 per cent for the freight.

The trade exertion at Messrs. Kohl, stedt, in calle San Martin, commenced on Thursday and closed last evening. The place was crowded both days, and the bidding animated. The cassimirs sold well. We understand no goods had to be withdrawn. Mr. Gowland has an intimate connection. His auction sale at Best was probably the very best of the season. At the trade sale at German Imputers, there are less staple goods offered than at those of English houses. We notice next week an-ther large trade sale advertized to take place at Messrs. Gowland & Co, on 15th 16th and 17th inst. It will be one of the heaviest sales which has yet taken place. We watch with anxiety its result, as we confess a sort of prejudice to this sort of importing business, and consider that it would be better for all parties not to force the market so much. The shopkeepers in town consider that as the importers are all selling off, dry goods have suffered second decline in Europe; but this is a most erroneous idea, as goods are actually selling dearer in Manchester and Hamburg to-day than in Buenos Ayres or Montevideo.

Amber Teeth Setting.

156—Calle Cuyo—156

Inches E. Krause sets teeth by a new intention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. It accommodates itself to the gums and palate much better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speak ing and laughing as natural.

My collection of artificial teeth is very fine, and cannot be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.

I have a number of instrument for extracting roots of teeth. also for stuffing the same with gold, silver, &c., which I guarantee for a number of years.
